TARRITIA CHARCITE. DIEDMONT AIR LINE ROUTE.

TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 5.

THE SUN IN APOGEE. -On Saturday last, at 4 o'clock in the morning, the sun was in apogee, or, which means the same thing, the earth was in aphelion. The earth then reached that point in her orbit when she was at the greatest distance from the sun. She is now, in round numbers, 3,000,000 miles farther from the sun than she was on the 2d of January when in perihelion. The reason we do not have the coolest weather when the sun is farthest away is because the sun's rays fall perpendicularly upon the earth in mid-summer and obliquely in mid-winter—the intensity of the heat far overbalancing the difference in the distance. The heat is doubtless tempered by the greater distance of the central fire, and the northern temperate zone is greatly favored in this respect. The sun appears smaller when he is in apogee, for his actual diameter for every day in the year is recorded in the American Ephemeris. The diameter of the sun is 31' 32' when in apogee or at his greatest distance from the earth, as was the case on the 2d. The diameter of the sun was 32' 36" when in perigee, or at his least distance from the earth, as was the case on January 2d. The difference between the greatest and least diameter of the sun is 1' ", which, though it seem small, is equal to 3,000,000 miles in linear measurement.
